

The titles (circled in red) indicate the actual arguments used to produce these pictures. For example, in the picture in the upper-left:

- The height of the first bar is 60.
- Each bar is 40 taller than the one to its left.
- Each bar has width 40.
- There are 4 bars.

Use the same arguments in YOUR testing; you should then get the same pictures (except for the sizes of windows).
